DETAILED ACTION

1. Applicant's arguments filed on 27 September 2004 and 24 November 2004 with respect to claims 1-26 are persuasive. Therefore, the rejection of claims 1-3 under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) is being now withdrawn.

REASONS FOR ALLOWANCE

2. Claims 1-26 are allowed over the prior art of record.

The following is an examiner's statement of reasons for allowance:

With respect to claim 1, the claimed features "a templates manager for selecting, for each template name processed by said application manager, one of said named templates in said template store according to selection criteria from said application manager, said application manager producing a representation of a web page in response to the body of each selected template that said interface into a form is compatible" in combination with other element of the independent claims would not found anticipated or obvious over the prior art made of record. With respect to claim 14, the claimed features "means for generating a template object including the new template name and reference to the given application, and means for adding the new template object to the template set object at a predetermined location therein" in combination with other element of the independent claims would not found anticipated or obvious over the prior art made of record.

Art Unit: 2162

The dependent claims, being definite, further limiting, and fully enabled by the specification are also allowed.

The closest prior art, U.S. Patent No. 5,987,480 issued to Donohue et al., relates to a method and system for producing world wide web page document templates by embedding dynamic tags and flow directives therein, populating the document templates with content stored in a data source. U.S. Patent No. 6,212,530 issued to Kadlec relates to external interfaces and centralized control of documentation but fail to teach the above limitations.

Any comments considered necessary by applicant must be submitted no later than the payment of the issue fee and, to avoid processing delays, should preferably accompany the issue fee. Such submissions should be clearly labeled "Comments on Statement of Reasons for Allowance."
